How Credit Predictor Pro Has Streamlined the CPL Process for an Adult Learner-Focused Institution and Its Students

A LEADER IN CPL FOR ADULT LEARNERS

Wilmington University in Delaware has a long and successful history of supporting experiential learning, awarding credit for prior learning from sources that include military experience and industry certifications and licenses. Serving a majority adult learner population (76% are age 25 or older), the institution is adept at supporting students who are entering college with rich and varied learning from work experiences and non-college training that can be assessed for credit.

THE CHALLENGE: Keeping up with demand

Wilmington's Office of Experiential Learning, established in 2013, began experiencing a capacity issue two years ago, when the growing volume of credit for prior learning (CPL) requests became unwieldy for its team of two specialists. The goal was to find a tool that helped manage inquiries more efficiently, highlighted potential credit matches within the system, and streamlined time-consuming communication flows, which often extended over multiple email threads per student.

THE SOLUTION: Credit Predictor Pro

In late 2022, Wilmington adopted Credit Predictor Pro as a one-stop solution for credit for prior learning requests, assessments, and approvals.

THE IMPACT

Credit Predictor Pro helped Wilmington streamline its process and save staff time. Better yet, the students have found it easy to use, helpful in understanding the CPL process, and useful in tracking their own progress and awarding of CPL credit.
